FCC 1: BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY

Title: Organic Dairy Farmers

Date: Week of May 23rd, 2004

Info: Prices are up for many dairy farmers in Wisconsin, but some dairy farmers get a good price on their milk all year. Organic dairy farmers continually get a high price for their milk. Organic farmers are different from conventional farmers, in that they are not allowed to use any chemicals on their fields or any antibiotics to treat their animals.

Price wise, conventional farmers must rely on the current milk market, meaning the price of milk fluctuates over time. Organic farmers, on the other hand, are locked into a steady price all year, since many in our area sell to co-op's, like Organic Valley Cooperative.

For example, back in 2000 conventional farmers got paid an average of just under 11-dollar month for 100 pounds. Organic farmers made 7 dollars more.

Title: High Gas Prices

Date: Week of May 10th, 2004

Info: In just one month, gas prices jumped an average of 15 cents a gallon in Wisconsin in May. Many businesses are seeing their pocketbooks taking significant hit with the record gas prices. It costs much more to fuel production, and transportation costs are going up. And those costs are then passed onto the customer, through additional surcharges. Many businesses hope the government will step in, and help them out. Many business owners say they were caught completely off guard, with the high gas prices going up so much in such a short amount of time.

Title: WIAA State Track Meet

Date: Week of May 30th, 2004

Info: The WIAA State Track Meet brings in millions of dollars of revenue to the city of La Crosse. And plans are now in the works to make sure the annual meet stays in La Crosse, by building a new stadium. The current stadium needs more seating capacity and university officials want to better use space on what is the second smallest campus in the UW-System. A new stadium would replace the visitor bleachers, and add more than 5,000 more seats. The plans would also call for new lighting, a new track, and an artificial playing surface. The cost of the project is approximately $12 million, and would be mostly funded through private donations. University officials hope the project could be completed in as early as three years. The new stadium would still retain the name of Veterans Memorial Stadium.

Title: Dish Network

Date: Week of April 25th, 2004

Info: Television viewers in the La Crosse area now have another option when it comes watching local channels. The satellite provider, Dish Network, has expanded its services to include local stations. Current customers can add the local channels for $5.99 per month. They'll also need a new dish antenna, but that's free. New customers can now get the dish with local channels for $29.99 a month. Local retailers say they've been waiting for this day for a long time.

FCC 2: GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Title: Bush Visit to La Crosse

Date: May 7, 2004

Info: President George W. Bush visited La Crosse, Wisconsin for the second time in two years in May 2004 via a campaign bus tour. The President began his tour in Dubuque, Iowa. WXOW-TV began reporting news of his arrival in Iowa, with program cut-ins beginning around the noon hour. WXOW-TV continued to cut-in with news briefs when President Bush arrived in the Wisconsin town of Prairie du Chien. The President arrived at Copeland Park in the city of La Crosse at approximately 5:15 PM that evening, and his speech began during News 19's Live at 5 show. WXOW-TV broadcast the speech live in its entirety. The speech ended about 6:05 PM, just at the beginning of the 6 PM report. After the President's speech, WXOW-TV included several different stories relating to his appearance in La Crosse. Since it was a reelection campaign rally, most of the people at the rally were supporters of the President. However, a group of protestors did gather outside the park, and News 19 ran a story about why they were protesting the President. There was also a story on the likelihood of Democratic Presidential candidate visiting the La Crosse area. In addition, News 19 did a story about how the police departments had to redirect traffic on the streets and the rivers of La Crosse to ensure safety. WXOW finished its 6 PM coverage that evening with another live shot from the park. The News 19 10PM report recapped all the day's events relating to the President's visit. WXOW-TV led the newscast with a summary of the President's speech, and followed with a story crowd reaction. Many of those reactions dealt with the war in Iraq, and those at the rally obviously agreed with what the President had to say. To allow all opinions a voice though, WXOW-TV ran a story on those protestors who believe the President has not done a good job in leading the United States. In addition, News 19 recapped Bush's Prairie du Chien visit and had video of him leaving the La Crosse airport after his speech at Copeland Park was finished. News 19 finished its presidential coverage by tying in a national story, as President Bush voiced his displeasure with the prisoner abuse scandal in Iraq during his speech. We also included reaction from Democrat John Kerry on the prisoner abuse scandal.

Title: President Bush in Prairie du Chien

Date: Week of May 2nd 2004

Info: Around 700 people were invited to hear President Bush speak at a campaign rally at Cabella's in Prairie du Chien. A number of people got a chance to ask him a variety of questions. He arrived at Cabella's at about 1:30 in the afternoon, and was introduced by First Lady Laura Bush. The President addressed the crowd for more than an hour, asking for their vote and asking them to support the troops in Iraq. He also had a chance to personally thank a few soldiers that were in the crowd. President Bush then hopped into his tour bus, and took Highway 27 to get to his campaign stop in La Crosse.

Title: Feingold Running for Reelection

Date: Week of May 23rd, 2004

Info: U.S. Senator Russ Feingold says he's reclaiming La Crosse, after President Bush's visit. In front of supporters at Copeland Park this evening, the Democrat announced he plans to run for a third Senate term this fall. He also unveiled his new universal health care proposal to ensure that all American have coverage. Feingold told reporters that he thinks the President continues to make mistakes, including his campaign speech in La Crosse in May. When it comes to the Iraqi War, Feingold argues the President needs to stop using generalities, and start being honest with the American people. Feingold will face the winner of the Republican Party primary. Those candidates include state senator Bob Welch, construction company executive Tim Michels, car dealer Russ Darrow, and attorney Robert Lorge.

Title: Exotic Animal Ban

Date: Week of June 13th, 2004

Info: The La Crosse County Board made its final decision regarding a proposed exotic animal ban in the county. After two rounds of discussion, the board voted to table the exotic pet ordinance. Tabling means the proposal is dead, and cannot come back unless it's drastically different. The board's decision may exotic animal owners relieved, along with many county board members. A few members expressed their outrage over the fact that they were spending so much time on a proposal that so few people support.

The ordinance was proposed in the first place, because some board members felt they had an obligation to change the original law, which was set back in 1988.

Title: River Clean-up

Date: Week of April 18th, 2004

Info: Volunteers gathered for the 12th year of the Mississippi River Clean-up here in La Crosse. From noon to one in the afternoon, about 200 volunteers gathered on one of five boat landings in the La Crosse area to clean up debris in and around the Mississippi River. It clean-up was sponsored by the DNR. This year, they say was a better year than most because the water level on the river was lower than normal, so they could see more objects easier. One of the items this year's crew took out of the river was an old row boat. All together, the volunteers were able to fill two big dumpsters worth of trash they pulled from the river. And DNR officials encourage all to be aware of not only the health of the Mississippi River, but all of Wisconsin's waterways.

Title: Storm Damage

Date: Week of April 4th, 2004

Info: Clean up is underway at Jellystone Campground near Warrens, after a tornado ripped through the area. An F-1 tornado touched down in Jellystone Campground, snapping and uprooting trees, which landed on tents and trailers. A warning did go out to the hundreds of campers to seek shelter minutes before the tornado struck. It did injure two people, one of them severely. One Chicago area man was taken to the hospital with a serious injury. Some of the campers stayed at local hotels for the rest of the night. In addition, another person was injured by the tornado outside the campground, when it tore through a part of Monroe County just west of Interstate 94 near Warrens. A semi driver on I-94 also received minor injuries when his semi was thrown into the median on the interstate.

Title: Mosquito Population

Date: Week of May 13th, 2004

Info: With all the recent rain in the area this spring, many people are worried about possibility of a large mosquito population this summer. Water puddles are breeding grounds for mosquitoes. However, the manager of La Crosse County Vector Control, Dave Geske, says they have found ways to control the mosquito population. Geske says about one dozen people have already started spraying for mosquitoes in April, in hopes they can end the life of larva stage mosquitoes. That's before mosquitoes become adults. There are about 26 species of mosquitoes that live in the La Crosse area.

Title: Wet Spring Weather

Date: Week of May 30th, 2004

Info: In two Wisconsin cities, it has been the wettest May on record. More than 9½ inches of rain fell in La Crosse in May. That's almost an inch more than the old record from May of 1960. Madison also saw a lot of rain. The city got 10½ inches of rain in May. That's almost an inch more than the previous record set in May of 2000.

FCC 4: EDUCATION

Title: Teacher Recognized

Date: Week of May 2nd, 2004

Info: She's made a difference in the lives of hundreds of first graders. And now, she's been recognized for her dedication. Wal-Mart recognized Anne Heasley as the local Teacher of the Year. Wal-Mart customers got a chance to nominate local teachers, and then store management selects one teacher they feel deserves the Teacher of the Year honors. Mrs. Heasley started teaching 31 years ago, and has been at St. James Elementary for 28 of those years. She was surprised with the award in front of her entire school, and said she had no idea she would be the recipient of such an award. Wal-Mart also donated $1,000 to St. James on Mrs. Heasley's behalf.

Title: Liberty Pole Closing

Date: Week of May 30th, 2004

Info: After 150 years, Liberty Pole Elementary closed its doors for the last time at the end of this school year. The Viroqua School District decided to close the rural school, due to budget cuts and low enrollment. Liberty Pole offers pre-kindergarten through 4th grade. The school's closing means 60 kids will change schools next year. One Liberty Pole's veteran teachers, Jill Miller, taught there for 19 years. She's says she's sad to say goodbye to the small school community that has become her family. The Viroqua School District will save more than $200,000 by closing Liberty Pole Elementary.

Title: UWL Freshman Registration

Date: Week of June 13th, 2004

Info: Getting into UW-La Crosse is becoming more of a challenge for high school grads. Tight financial times has the University only accepting the cream of the crop, so to speak, when it comes to freshman students. Admissions directors at UW-L say the University would like to have a larger freshman class, but budget restrictions make it not possible. They say this coming fall though, they have a diverse mix of students. Freshman students are admitted through a number of factors. They include high school course work, high school rank and GPA, ACT and SAT scores, and involvement in extracurricular activities. This year, 1600 make up the incoming freshman class. That's out of 6,000 applicants.

Title: Leon Elementary School Closing

Date: Week of April 4, 2004

Info: The Sparta Area School District has voted to close one of its rural elementary schools. The school board unanimously voted to close Leon Elementary School. This year, about 35 students attend the school. Board members say the school has just become too expensive to maintain, noting this budget reduction will save the Sparta Area School District about $76,000 dollar per year. Leon Elementary is scheduled to close at the end of this school year.

FCC 5: PUBLIC HEALTH

Title: AIDS Awareness

Date: Week of April 11th, 2004

Info: Some UW-L college students did their part to raise awareness of AIDS and other sexually-transmitted diseases. The Gamma Sigma Sigma sorority and the Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity held their 10th annual Teeter-Totter-A-Thon as a unique way to raise that awareness. Members of the group took turns teeter-tottering for 24 straight hours. In addition, students who stopped by to look on, had a chance to win free food, and learn vital information on how they can protect themselves from AIDS and other STD's. About 2,000 dollars was raised for the AIDS Resource Center in Wisconsin.

Title: Taskforce

Date: Week of May 9th, 2004

Info: The city council gave the final go-ahead to form a taskforce that will look at possible ways to prevent any more river deaths near downtown La Crosse. This stems from last month's drowning death of UW-L student Jared Dion. The taskforce will look at possible ways to prevent any more river deaths near downtown La Crosse. City Council members Andy Monfre and Andrea Richmond say this south entrance to Riverside Park is a very dangerous access to the river. It's a walkway at the end of Pearl Street, and both Monfre and Richmond day they want it closed off at night. That's one of the things the taskforce will look into during the course of its existence. Mayor John Medinger hopes to get the taskforce in place within the next two weeks. The team will have four months to meet and then report to the council this fall.

Title: Trane Health Fair

Date: Week of May 9th, 2004

Info: For two days, more than 2500 Trane Company employees spent part of their work day focusing on their health at the Trane Health Fair. With close to 30 percent of health care costs driven by controllable health risks, Trane Company says its in its best interest to be better health consumers. At this second annual wellness fair, employees learned more about risks to their own health. Surveys asked employees about health habits, and from the answers provided, they received a report on their lifestyle and counseling on how to lower their chances of getting sick. The fair also included 35 wellness related booths and onsite health care screenings, like blood pressure and cholesterol checks.

Title: County Health Services

Date: April 2nd, 2004

Info: The La Crosse County Health Department offers a lot of services for its residents. Everything from immunizations, to water-well testing, to private, anonymous screening for HIV virus and much more. The Health Department announced the agenda for Public Health Week, which is April 5th, and 11th, and officials will hold an open house to let the public see all it has to offer. They say in the past year, La Crosse County lost 10,000 potential years of life. Those are years people died early because they didn't get the right medical care.

FCC 6: RECREATION

Title: Dish Network

Date: Week of April 25th, 2004

Info: Television viewers in the La Crosse area now have another option when it comes watching local channels. The satellite provider, Dish Network, has expanded its services to include local stations. Current customers can add the local channels for $5.99 per month. They'll also need a new dish antenna, but that's free. New customers can now get the dish with local channels for $29.99 a month. Local retailers say they've been waiting for this day for a long time.

Title: Camping

Date: Week of May 23rd, 2004

Info: The recent spike in gas prices is taking its toll on people's travel plans. And local campgrounds say they are seeing more people vacationing at local campgrounds. And that's creating a crunch for camping spots. The manager of Bluebird Springs just outside of La Crosse said all his campsites were booked for the Memorial Day weekend. Some of those are local residents, who want to celebrate the holiday weekend away from home, but also want to save money on gas. Some RV's have 100 gallon tanks, and filling them up can cost over 200 bucks. Most campground managers expect campgrounds to stay booked throughout the summer, as long as gas prices stay high.

Title: Loggers Opening Day

Date: Week of May 30th, 2004

Info: After much anticipation and preparation, the La Crosse Loggers kicked off their second season. Nearly 4000 people turned out for the game, and it was standing room only if you got there late. But this year, Loggers fans had more room to sit at Copeland Field. During the off season, 1,000 seats were added to Copeland Field. Other field improvement included the News 19 Saturn Supersection, just beyond the right field wall. It's a place for businesses or families to reserve for a private party during the game. And those who reserve it get the same extras they get on the original party deck.

Title: New Playground

Date: June 6th, 2004

Info: Kids in La Crosse now have a new playground thanks to the combined efforts of some local and national organizations. The project began with a board cutting ceremony on the playground site at the Boys and Girls Club in La Crosse. The new playground will offer slides and other modern playground equipment. Funding comes from both the Boys and Girls Club and from the Home Depot. Employees from the Home Depot volunteered their time to help build the playground.

FCC 7: CHILDREN'S ISSUES

Title: Child Abuse

Date: Week of May 30th

Info: A group of local experts, along with the public looked for ways to end the threat of child abuse. About 40 people from the community took part in the meeting at Health Science Center on the UW-L campus. The gathering is a follow-up to Governor Jim Doyle's April Summit on Child Abuse. La Crosse County alone received nearly 200 reports of abuse in 2002. Suggestions from the meeting go towards improving ways to protect children in Wisconsin.

Title: New Recreation Center

Date: Week of May 23rd, 2004

Info: It's a first-in-the-nation kind of project, and it's happening in La Crosse. The Boys and Girls Club and Viterbo University broke ground on their new Recreational and Educational Center. Representatives from both organizations were present. The building features will include three gyms, a teen center, and a computer lab. The two groups believe the facility will be a wonderful way to connect Viterbo students who aspire to be teachers, nurses, and social workers with today's youth. It will also be good for children on the south side of La Crosse to have a recreational building so close. The building will be named the Amie Mathey Center, after the late Amie Mathy, founder of Mathy Construction.

Title: Liberty Pole Closing

Date: Week of May 30th, 2004

Info: After 150 years, Liberty Pole Elementary closed its doors for the last time at the end of this school year. Title: Flu Shot Doses

Date: Week of April 11th, 2004

Info: The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention is stepping up its fight against childhood influenza. The CDC say $80 million will be spent over the next two years to pay for a stockpile of four million doses of vaccines. Officials hope to prevent future vaccine shortages. This past winter, the flu was blamed for dozens of children's deaths. Most had not received a flu shot. State health departments and doctors told the CDC they had run out of flu shots, or had very few doses left.
